Sort 10 - Vowel Alternation: Long to Short

During the holiday season people are typically happy. It is a time they get to relax with their families and appreciate the natural beauty of the world. They think about all the things they are grateful for and give gratitude to those individuals who help them get through life.

They remember how lucky they are to live in a nation where they have freedoms and choices.

During this season people have time to reflect on the choices they make. They can revise their thinking and change their ways if they need to. They can take a deep breath and think about their actions. It is human nature to make change a reality. When people make revisions in their life, they will see change occur. When change happens, humanity is often changed for the better.
